

Happy Birthday

MR CHEER

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT

Welcome to the September edition of the school newsletter. I continue to be impressed by the positive attitude, high levels of engagement and happy disposition our students display whether in class or in the playground. It is a joy to be able to show prospective new school families around our school.

Wearable Arts: On 24 August, many of our Year 7/8 students competed in the Edible Arts Competition, despite the Toitoto Edible Fashion Awards being cancelled. Miss Rodda, Julia Dallas from Pakowhai, Emma Robertson from Port Ahuriri, and Kerryn from the Designers in Schools Programme, managed to pull an event together for our keen students. We came away with seven winners, out of 13 entries from our school. There were approximately 55 entries from the three schools, which is an amazing outcome given the circumstances. All our students can be really proud of their creative, detailed costumes. By Sadie and Lola Rebuilding After the Cyclone: As we continue to invest in our school environment after the cyclone, we have just finished clearing all the dead trees and silt from the boundary between the school and our neighbours. The first step was clearing this area and we will begin the second part of regenerating this area by planting a large number of new native seedlings this week. I want to do a massive shout out to Brendan and Vikki Berkett who donated the time, machinery, and manpower to get the clearing of this area completed for the school. It took a team of drivers, diggers, and trucks six days to complete this job and their support is greatly appreciated by the school.

As I write this the students are out planting. Thanks also to Daniel Gale for sorting the mulch to put around the trees.

Cyclone Funding: After receiving some very generous donations from all over the country and support from the MOE we have been able to use these funds to support individual families, provide learning support for students by funding additional teachers, cover the cost of buses for all students for the rest of the year, contribute significantly towards all EOTC opportunities for our students, repairing any damage to the school caused by the cyclone, covering the costs of all sports uniforms for the year, and of course catering 10,800 school lunches in term one while we were at the domain. As we use continue to use these funds prudently, aspects of this support will be able to continue through to 2024.

Forensics: Two people in white come out of a strange van, their mission, to teach the school about investigations and crime scenes. They setup in Hihi, and overnight it becomes a grim crime scene with a murdered mannequin as the victim.

Doug, the victim had been stabbed by a robber when he got home. The robber at first had stolen some jewellery but after being startled, he jumped out of the window, fell, and cut himself and left his DNA all over the wall.

DNA is a fascinating thing, it can be left behind by anything growing from your body, hair, fingernails, dead skin, blood anything like that and he smeared his all over the victims wall. One human holds a DNA chain long enough that if it is outstretched it can go to the sun and back four times, or the moon and back 1500 times.

Next the shoe prints. Luckily, we found one right outside the window, so we mixed up a combination of water and plaster to fill the print and determine which suspects it was. However, that took too long (20 minutes) and the suspect was on the run, plus he could easily burn his shoes at any moment. In his scramble he stood on some paper that he knocked over and we used iron oxide and a magnet to take a print clearly displaying whose shoe it was. That is how we cracked a case and became “real” forensic scientists. Thanks to our visitors, we all learnt a lot.

Cross Country: An awesome day last Friday. We have some very impressive and determined runners at Eskdale. One of the most pleasing aspects on the day was seeing the positive attitude and effort displayed by all of our students. I am also continually impressed by the way the house leaders run out in front of and behind our students’ offering loads of encouragement for the younger runners.

The House competition is always tightly fought, and Friday was no exception with a close result. Third place went to Kahikatea second place Kauri and first place Kowhai.

CHAIRPERSON'S REPORT

Another complicated term is nearly behind us. The days are lengthening and the sun is starting to generate a little warmth, at last.

I expect everyone is aware of the challenges we faced in July and August with the Ministry's decision to initially pause and then radically reduce the scope of our capital works program. An unnecessary situation but a great result to see sanity prevail and have this decision overturned. I'm sure we are all equally pleased to see the concrete being poured this week. There's not much more to say on that issue, other than to acknowledge the wonderful support the staff and board received during the battle. Both at the time and since, we have felt enabled and acknowledged by the people we were trying to represent. Thank you all.

After the chaos of that time, I'm pleased to report we are back to the really positive situation we were in prior to the disruption. As I explained in May the school is in excellent financial shape and, thanks to the goodwill of these donors far and wide, we are ready to manage both planned and unplanned needs over the next couple of years. I have also just signed a really generous 5-year property plan with MOE that includes provision for some great improvements at the school in coming years: solar power, pool heating to extend the swimming season, new pool changing rooms and a new music space so we can rekindle the extracurricular music program at some point. Alongside the new capital works, these improvements mean Eskdale School is going to be an amazing place to learn and grow up for many years to come.

In other news, we have board elections coming up in November. I am coming to the end of my second term and will be stepping down from the board at the end of the year, thereby creating a vacancy. Board terms last three years and are a great way to meaningfully connect with the work of the school. If you have ever considered getting involved in school governance, I would strongly encourage you to put your name forward. More information will be coming out about that soon.

Warm regards,

Glenn Bond
Chairperson, Eskdale School Board

TIMES TABLES ROCK STARS

Year 5/6 Times Table Rock Stars

The Year 5/6 class of Kereru recently took part in a Maths Tournament running over three days competing against 324 other classes around New Zealand. They achieved the fantastic result of being the 5th top class in New Zealand! Special mention to Colton Bennett for achieving 23rd best individual student and Connor Havill the 33rd best individual student out of all of New Zealand.

All that effort with your maths learning is really paying off!
