Welcome to the July newsletter, the final one for what has been a really busy and successful term across a variety of learning activities and experiences. Thank you all for your support in making this term a great one for our students. I want to acknowledge the hard work of our teaching team who have provided a real variety of opportunities for our students and the students have certainly made the most of their opportunities.

Grandparents Day: We had our first ever grandparent's day on Tuesday. What an awesome turnout of grandparents! Our best estimate based on the number of cups of tea served was that there were around 250 grandparents at school. The students loved the opportunity to share their school with their grandparents and I know from talking to the grandparents they thoroughly enjoyed the opportunity to spend some time at Eskdale School. For some it was a return to their old primary school. Grandparents play an integral part in our student's lives and with the success of the day I am sure this may well become an annual event.

Report Survey: Thank you to everyone who took the time to complete the Report survey. We look forward to using the results as a guide when we design our new reporting format.

Edible Fashion Awards: The Edible Fashion Awards is a show that any one of any age can enter. Each year there is a different theme. This year it was peace, love and diversity. The designs had to somehow represent or fit in with the theme but also had to have something to do with food.

A lady from edible fashion awards came and talked to us about the event and encouraged us to be creative with our entries in the competition.

We had six weeks to organise and create our designs. We could be in a group of two or work by ourselves. Everyone had to overcome challenges and persevere along the way. Over 80 costumes were entered in the intermediate category and 57 of the designs were from Kuaka Class.

We took a bus to the pre judging show. None of the costumes that were anything alike. When it was our turn to be judged (Intermediated Section) we walked on the catwalk and the judges asked us questions about our design. Then came the exciting bit. Finding out who the finalists were. 16 designs from the intermediate category were chosen and 4 of them were from Eskdale School. Our finalists were: Tia Anderson with M&M madness, Lauren Harkness and Kelsie Taylor with Te kirikiri, Millie Nicholls and Frederieke Beekmans with half and half and myself with the fairy of harmony. Tia was also a finalist in the Avante Garde section. Her model was her sister Tegan.

We all went to the final judging event which was on the Saturday night. It was very exciting and nerve racking. I was lucky enough to be the winner for the intermediate category.

We all really worked hard and enjoyed attending the events. The year sevens are keen to enter in the Edible Arts competition again next year.

Kids Lit Quiz: The lit quiz is an international quiz about books, there are lots of heats in each country. There is then a national final and a world final. You can enter two teams from each school. We started training in term 1 for the Hawkes Bay heat. The way we trained was we got given questions and the first team to press the squeaky thing got to answer. We trained once a week for a while until we got to the Napier heats. There what happened was that you had a sheet of paper and the quizmaster asked questions. You wrote down what you thought the answer was. There was ten rounds of ten questions and you got to pick one round in which to get double points. Our team won the Hawkes Bay competition and the other team came 5th. That meant we got to go to the national finals. Our training went from one day a week to five mornings a week. We finally go to the National final in Wellington. There instead of paper to write your answers you had to use buzzers. The questions were read aloud and a team could buzz in at any time. If you were right you would get the points and if you were wrong you would lose points and the chance to answer that question again. We came third equal and then took out 3rd place outright by winning the sudden death final question. Our prize was $75 cash each. The winning team came from Auckland and they got to represent New Zealand at the world champs. By Joe

Debating Finals: Our year 7 & 8 Students have been learning all about debating this term. After all doing preliminary debates the two final debates were held on Monday night. I was super impressed by the student's public speaking ability, the links to research, and other evidence the students used to argue their points. Their ability to use rebuttal was also very impressive. The two moots for Monday night's debates were "Money can buy you happiness" and "The internet does more harm than good". The first debate was won by the affirmative team being Josiah, Leah and Fraser who beat the negative team being Emerson, Freddie, and Tess. The second debate was also won by the affirmative team being Sophie, Tiaki, and Nicole who beat Harris, Caspian, and Kahu. The overall winning team on the night based on points was Sophie, Tiaki and Nicole. Also congratulations to Fraser and Harris who won the individual speaker of each debate with Harris taking out the speaker of the night. Our students continue to blow me away by their skills and the way they shine at whatever they turn their hand to.

Warriors League in Libraries Competition: On the June 21, two Warriors, one junior Warrior and one woman Warrior came to our school to announce the winner of the League in Libraries competition. The League in Libraries competition is a writing competition where you have to write a picture book that included the Warriors somewhere in it. All of Kuaka class entered this competition and with Tiaki winning last year, there were many people with high hopes. After our mihi whakatau [welcoming] for the Warriors and much suspense, the winner was announced, Caspian Buxton! As winner Caspian has won many things like his story getting made into a picture book, a trip to one of the Warriors games where he will run the ball onto the field and many other things. There was also several other Eskdale students who got a shout out from the Warriors because they loved their story and it was one of the finalists. Part of being the winner meant that the Warriors would go with your class to a library nearby and there the students would do some writing activities. So Kuaka class went to the Taradale library to do some fun word mashups and word finds with the Warriors. Soon the day was up and as we were leaving we got a free bag with some goodies. Everyone had lots of fun writing their stories and hanging out with the Warriors. With a few of our year sevens as finalists and many more good writers entering next year, we hopefully have a fair chance of winning again.

Orienteering: On Sunday the 10 of June Mayah, Belle A and Tegan went to Craggy Range. We did the Hawkes Bay Orienteering Teams Relay competition with about twenty other girls teams. There were three students in each team. Tegan went first then Belle and then finally Mayah. It was as muddy as a pig sty it was so steep, stinky and people were sweaty. We kept sliding and slipping. We finished really muddy and we were the winners of the Primary School section. At the end of the day our parents were proud of us and our effort but not pleased with our clothes.

by Mayah Dooney and Belle Anderson.

Tia, Jac, and Maizi pictured to the right also achieved an awesome result finishing 3rd in the Intermediate section of the relay.

Whakatauki: This relates to our school value of Respect:
 Manaaki whenua, Manaaki tangata, Haere whakamua =
 Care for the land, care for the people, go forward.

Kiwiha: Hangareka ana! = What a crack up.

Movie Vouchers: There will be a set of movie reward programme coupons at the end of this newsletter. If you are visiting Reading Cinemas please take some along as this earns the School free movie tickets that we can use as prizes.

I hope you have all enjoyed the term. The students are ready for a little bit of time off. I hope you enjoy the break and manage to spend some time with your family over the holidays.

I look forward to seeing you all back at school on Monday 23 July.
 Tristan

Library news

Another very busy month has passed with the librarians enjoying their responsibilities and trying to assist the junior readers. Scholastic books have just arrived so more new books to grace the shelves.

The library is undergoing a few changes; at the moment we are trying to set up some junior non-fiction boxes selected by genre rather than numbers. Including sections on dinosaurs, wild animals, vehicles and space. This is to help the junior students find books more easily, to assist them in expanding their general knowledge and interests. You may notice a light green picture at the top of the corner of these books.

With the popularity of the National Lit Quiz we have had our own version run by the librarians and they hope to have a junior version later in the year.

Thank you for sharing the love of books with your children and enjoying spending time with them in the world of literacy.

Two Hawke's Bay primary school pupils were crowned by two Warriors players on Thursday as the winners of the League in Libraries story writing competition.

Riana Foster from Parkvale School,

Hastings took out the primary category with her story Vodafone Warriors and the Magic Slime while Caspian Buxton from Eskdale School, Napier won the intermediate section with The Warriors, the Wizard and the other Wizard.

The competition aimed to promote reading and writing skills to school children between Years 3 and 8.

Vodafone Warriors reading captain Albert Vete and fellow NRL forward Jazz Tavaga led a team from the Harvey Norman Community Warriors to officially congratulate Riana and Caspian.

It was the second straight year Eskdale School has provided a winning story after Tiaki McArdle's An Eggcellent Adventure in 2017.

"The quality of the entries from Hawke's Bay was tremendous with Riana and Caspian really standing out with their stories," Vodafone Warriors community relations manager Petrece Kesha said.

"We never cease to be amazed with the stories the pupils come up with and this year is no exception."

Wanted -flat stones for Art Classes Next Term

When you are next at the beach or by the river could you please collect as many flat round stones as you can. Ms Jurgens will be teaching our children the art of painting Mandala stones to decorate our new fence area running behind the senior classrooms. We will also be using these as a fundraiser at our Eskdale Market day in November. Thanks.

ENVIRO MATTERS JULY

Waste Audit 2018

Every year our school conducts a waste audit in Term 2. All the waste from that day is collected, sorted and weighed and we use this information to measure how well our practices are working and to re-evaluate what we can be doing better to reduce our impact on the landfill. This year we conducted our Waste Audit on June 11th as part of a Hawkes Bay wide initiative by the Youth Environment Council. Many thanks to the Enviro Squad members who helped with this again this year.

Foil packets make up a large proportion of our total waste. These do not break down in the landfill. Have you thought about buying larger packets and filling a reusable plastic container in the lunchbox instead?

Food scraps are sorted, and processed through one of our organic methods. The by-products of this, either compost or worm tea, is then used on our school gardens.

Our Enviro Squad continue to work on our waste issues and are currently consulting with staff to try to solve some of the issues and reduce the school's impact on the landfill.

Plastic Free July – Are you up for the challenge?

Our Year 5 & 6 EFS classes have been looking at ways to reduce plastic and enjoyed spending a session re-purposing t shirts into bags for use in our school office and at local stores. If you are sorting through your children's clothes in the holidays, please save any old tshirts or singlets for us and bring to the box in the office.

Many thanks

Beeswax food wraps, made by our Envirosquad, are available for sale in the school office – Only $5 each! A great alternative to gladwrap ☺

Please help our pupils in their fight to reduce plastics and waste by modelling sustainable practices in their lunchboxes!

Year 5 & 6 EFS - Planting through winter

The pupils from Hihi, Kereru and Karearea have been busy planting some of the Native plants grown in our school nursery. We are attempting to regenerate some low to mid growing trees and shrubs in our Native Garden here at school.

Community Effort...

Last Friday, a group of 50 children from these classes walked up to EskHills for a planting excursion. Armed with a spade, worm tea and an Akeake tree each, the children led the way up the school track. Mr Gary Pollock met us there and explained their aims with the establishment of Native bush areas.

Enviro Squad News

This dedicated group of pupils continue to meet at lunchtimes on Wednesdays and are currently working on various projects around the school, as identified by a student survey.

Many thanks to Teresa Webster and Neville Harkness for donating the timber and soil for our dirt mound! The kids really enjoy playing in it and no longer need to damage the roots of trees as they make their roadways.

Wanted: Can you help?

The students have identified a need for another drinking fountain on the field area. We are seeking the help of a local plumber with this, can you recommend anyone?

Also...The students wish to make some portable soccer goals for the school field. Is there anyone with engineering expertise who they could consult on this?

Many thanks.

Grandparent's Day

It was fabulous to see the number of children proudly showing their grandparents through our outdoor learning areas and explaining what they do there. Kea pupils were lucky to have some Grandparents help them weed their ornamental Kale garden.
